Writers Group All Years

Attention all students: Whether you choose to believe it or not, you all have a tale to tell. In fact, you have many. If you want to be part of the 'top secret', no pressure, all creative and full of prizes writing group, then all you need to do is find someone who already has the google classroom code. There is currently one student from each grade who will start with the password. They may not be sitting next to you now but who knows, by the end of the day, someone with the code may be. The first chance to win a free movie voucher will begin at first break today.

Clues to help locate will also be on English Notice Board at first break.

Happy hunting. #SWAG
